DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I , claims 1-11, drawn to a force sensor.

Group II , claims 12-13, drawn to a method of manufacturing a force sensor.

Group III, claims 14-15, drawn to a nanoindentation sample.

2. The inventions listed as various Groups do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

In Group I, independent claims 1 disclose a force sensor for use in nanoindentation setup and independent claim 10, using the sensor in an electron microscope. The problem solved by these technical features is to measure magnitudes of force in a specific environment.

In Group II, independent claim 12 discloses a method for producing a force sensor with all specific steps for such production. The technical features of this claim define constructional details of the various step relating to etching, doping bonding and more.. The problem solved by these technical features is to provide an the specific method of manufacturing.

In Group III, independent claim 14 discloses nanoindentation sample. The technical features of this claim define constructional details of the various plates relating to such sample.

Art Unit: 2855

The problem solved by these technical features is to provide a sample along with its specific environment such as a plate and a ridge and so on.

All technical features defining the invention of various Groups form a difference between said inventions. They are therefore not common (Rule 13.2 PCT). They further differ from each other to such an extent that they are not considered as corresponding technical features (Rule 13.2 PCT). The application lacks therefore the requirement of unity of invention, stated in Rule 13.1 PCT, therefore, the claims are restricted.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Art Unit: 2855

5. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained.

Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
